

Startups

Kipling secure AI Guardrails and Complete Cybersecurity in One MSP-Focused Platform.

Picarnot workflow software, capital access, and trust layer for mid-scale distributed energy.

Novos Power provides solid state transformers for stabilizing rapid, large-scale AI data center power loads.

Vela Energy the AI-native execution layer for power infrastructure.

Nura is power develops AI-powered energy management software that forecasts utility bills, analyzes home energy usage, and recommends cost-saving actions and optimal electricity rate plans for residential customers.

42nights is AI-native software transformation platform that rebuilds SaaS applications, internal tools, and legacy systems into self-maintaining software operated by autonomous AI agents within customer environments.

Redwagon

Redwagon is turn RFPs and drawings into complete, auditable project estimates without spending hours of engineering time.

NRGsurf is AI- and behavioral-science-based load optimization helping utilities and property managers monetize surplus solar and power data centers.

Hardline turns every jobsite conversation into organized, actionable project updates.

Edgecom Energy helps commercial and industrial facilities cut energy costs through smart monitoring, predictive AI, and automated demand response.

Grid Agents automating the technical reviews and assessments behind every grid connection, at the pace the energy transition demands.

Mayimflow is a technology company that offers predictive intelligence water-leak detection system for data centers and commercial buildings.